

LUMINARY
TECHNOLOGIES

VISUALISATION

"Through the art of storytelling, we can preserve our heritage, educate future generations, and inspire change." - Philipp Humm

Showcase your project

Cinematic animations make strong, positive impressions. Communicate information quickly and easily to any audience regardless of their background, discipline, or knowledge of the subject.

Excellent for:

- Presentations
- Company Meetings
- Marketing Expos
- Online Media
- Project Announcements

Go beyond photography

Show off your project before construction begins. Simulations, cutaways and technical overlays can show important information in a realistic context.

Provide in-depth information quickly and easily, and have complete control over what you show.

Improve training and safety

Demonstrate how things work, how to remove or install parts, and company procedures in an intuitive and engaging format.

Safety videos or virtual reality experiences can show things like clearances or routes of travel, and can simulate hazardous situations safely.

All images shown are rendered 3D models, not photos.

